

Training for supervisors of interns

Thank you for your commitment to providing supervision for interns undertaking prevocational training.

The Medical Council of New Zealand encourage those who provide supervision to interns in clinical attachments (clinical supervisors) to attend one of the training workshops we are holding. This training is part of Council's ongoing work to support supervisors and offers the chance for you to network and share ideas with colleagues.

Connect Communications will be facilitating this training and senior Council staff will also attend.

Learning objectives:

These interactive workshops will provide you with an understanding of:

1. Council's processes and requirements for supervisors of PGY1 and PGY2 doctors.
2. How to identify and manage the intern who is having difficulty and requires support.
3. Best practice supervision, including: maps and models of supervision, supervision tools and tips for providing feedback.
