In a training capacity, you will contribute to the provision of Intensive Care Services within the objectives and philosophies of The Lyell McEwin Hospital and the College of Intensive Care Medicine, with a commitment to clinical teaching and research portfolios. Working under the daily supervision of a Consultant, you will work collaboratively as part of the multidisciplinary ICU team of other medical specialists, medical trainees, nursing staff and other health professionals. Providing comprehensive clinical care to patients within the Intensive Care Unit, you will also participate in the postgraduate training program as directed.

Lyell McEwin Hospital (LMH) is a 336-bed specialist referral public teaching hospital in the northern suburbs of Adelaide, providing services in the areas of General Medicine, Emergency Medicine, General Surgery, Anaesthesia and Intensive Care, Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Paediatrics and Psychiatry. We provide a full range of high-quality medical, surgical, diagnostic, emergency and support services, and are affiliated with the University of Adelaide, University of South Australia and Flinders University. The LMH Emergency Department (ED) is open 24-hours a day, providing health care to more than 65,000 people each year.

Holding a Bachelor of Medicine; Bachelor of Surgery (MBBS) or equivalent, you will be registrable with the Medical Board of Australia as a Medical Practitioner with General Registration. Demonstrating clinical experience in Intensive Care Medicine, Emergency Medicine, or an Anaesthetics setting, you will bring experience and training in resuscitation. Your highly developed communication, interpersonal and conflict resolution skills will equip you to liaise effectively with people from diverse cultures and backgrounds.

The South Australian public sector promotes diversity and flexible ways of working including part-time. Applicants are encouraged to discuss the flexible working arrangements for this role.

Appointment will be subject to a satisfactory Criminal History Check.
Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander applicants are encouraged to apply.
